Drafted in 1973, the lounge chair has a distinctly 70s silhouette and shares its frame construction with the bikes that give Chopper its name. The updated oversized two-piece steel frame of the 2023 rendition is finished in black chrome, with a generous stance and iconic lines. Comfort and support come from a thick leather seat and backrest, with solid brass Buster + Punch logo caps elevating the details. Oh and did we mention this chair is stackable!

Chopper Chair, first designed 50 years ago by legendary designer, Marcello Minale – the father of Buster + Punch founder, Massimo Buster Minale.

Marcello Minale's legacy as an originator in branding and graphic design is firmly cemented, playing a central role in building the identity for Armani, Fendi, Harrods and Valentino. His approach to design set the tone for his son's own creative journey, which took Massimo into architecture, custom motorcycle fabrication and, eventually, the conception of Buster + Punch. The father and son's shared love of design and motorcycles is woven into the aptly named Chopper lounge chair, which has been given a full Buster + Punch reworking.
